GERALD C. MANN IS PRINCIPAL SPEAKER MEMORIAL SERVICES

CONFEDERATE VETERANS AND DAUGHTERS WHO PASSED ON HONORED

Memorial services honoring Confederate veterans and daughters of the Confederacy who passed away during the past year climaxed the morning session of the third day of the forty-second annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Gerald C. Mann, attorney general nominee, was the principal speaker at the memorial exercises and challenged his audience to use the fighting heritage of their ancestors in attacking the invisible enemies of the present and to show the same courage and devotion which the Confederate soldiers showed in the great task of reconstruction.

Mrs. C. C. Cameron of Dallas, division chaplain, presided at the services, and a special prelude was presented on the organ by Mrs. S. K. Briezt, followed by the invocation by the Rev. O. W. Reese, pastor of the First Christian Church. In opening the services Mrs. Cameron called attention to the sacredness of the occasion but asserted there was no necessity for the meeting to be sad.

After the singing of "When the Roll is Called Up Yonder," Rev. Reese read several appropriate passages of scripture. The memorial poems were read by Miss Nan Elizabeth Cameron, daughter of the chaplain, and included "The Day" by Rupert Brooke, and "Consolation."

Mrs. J. C. Callahan of Austin was then presented in a vocal solo "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere."

Impressive ceremonies of calling the rolls of deceased veterans and daughters came next. A huge wreath of ferns was mounted on an easel on the right, and the name of each veteran was called and a page placed in a red rose in the fern, and a white rose was inserted for each deceased daughter.

Mrs. Cameron stated that after visiting some of the battlefields and cemeteries and seeing the monuments to the southern fighters meant as much as those to northern soldiers, and finally received a great consolation from the fact that

SPECTACULAR FIRE STILL RAGING IN OIL TANK VILLAGE

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT MILLION DOLLARS HAS ALREADY RESULTED

LINDEN, N. J., Oct. 13.—(AP)—A raging fire, which destroyed millions of gallons of oil, kerosene and gasoline and injured a score of men, was smothered under control today, leaving eight acres of a refining company's "tank farm" a field of charred, twisted girders.

Linden Fire Chief Frank T. Miller, who estimated damage at "more than $1,000,000," said the fire had finally been localized to one 1,644,000-gallon tank of fuel oil. Approximately 20 other tanks were destroyed by explosion and flames.

The weary army of firemen and volunteers battled the vast tongues of flame and clouds of greasy, black smoke until dawn this morning as the fire raged through the heart of one of the world's greatest refinery centers.

Powerful searchlights pointed the way for rivers of water and fire-smothering foam poured by fire-fighters into eight acres of burning tanks and blazing during the early morning hours in the inferno that was the Cities Service company "tank village" near here.

A crowd of 35,000 had watched in awe for hours as an estimated 10,000,000 gallons of oil went up in flames, 500 feet high, causing damage unofficially estimated at $1,000,000.

The spectacular fire, accompanied at the start by explosions as one after another of nearly all of 22 tanks in the oil field were ignited, could be seen for more than 10 miles.

S. P. Keator, superintendent of the Cities Service plant, announced that by 4 a. m. (CST) the fire was under control and the danger past, although the oil still blazed fiercely.

Virtually helpless in their struggle to extinguish the holocaust, firemen and assistants from many municipalities turned their efforts to confining the conflagration to the single unit of the oil field.

Threatened continually were the Cities Service's adjacent distillery field of 30 other and larger fuel tanks as well as plants of the Sinclair Oil Company and the American Cyanamide company.

A short distance away is located the huge refinery of the Standard Oil company with its 800 tanks.

Two score fire-fighters were injured, none seriously, and companies of police and National Guardsmen were called in to guard the tanks as the fire started suddenly with explosion of a 1,680,000 gallon tank yesterday.

ULTIMATUM SERVED ON CZECHOSLOVAKIA BY HUNGARY TODAY

REPORTED HITLER HAS BEEN ASKED TO MEDIATE NEW DEMANDS ON NATION

KOMAROM, Hungary (On the Czechoslovak border), Oct. 13.—(AP)—It was announced at 6:05 p. m. today (11:05 a. m. CST) that Czechoslovakia's answer to a Hungarian ultimatum for acceptance of Hungary's territorial demands by 6 p. m. would be given at 7 p. m.

No reason for the one hour delay was given.

A high Hungarian official source asserted that Hungary probably would order army mobilization tonight if the demands were rejected.

Members of the Hungarian delegation said hope for an agreement had virtually been abandoned. Hungarian delegates packed their bags and boarded the Danube river steamer Zofia, where they were joined by Kelen, Hungary's foreign minister, who had arrived from Budapest to receive the Czechoslovak reply.

The steamship was ready to leave immediately for Budapest.

During the day both Czechoslovak and Hungarian troops were moved toward the already heavily garrisoned border.

Hungary believed there was little likelihood that Czechoslovakia would offer sufficient new concessions to satisfy the Hungarian demands.

Hungary demanded cession of Hungarian populated districts in Slovakia on the basis of the Hungarian 1910 census. Slovaks countered with a proposal to give up territory on the basis of the 1870 census, when there were but few Hungarians living in districts which Hungary now wants.

The Hungarian proposals, it was believed, would require cession of 8,000 square miles, while Slovaks were willing to cede only 2,000 square miles.

Additional Cessions

Two hours before the time set for expiration of the ultimatum, a Czechoslovak delegate said the Hungarian delegation had been informed Czechoslovakia would make

LABOR FEDERATION REAFFIRMS BOYCOTT ON GERMAN GOODS

REJECTS PROPOSAL FOR UNITED ACTION BY DEMOCRACIES AGAINST AGGRESSOR

By T. F. COMAN

HOUSTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor convention reaffirmed its boycott on German manufactured goods today and rejected a proposal that the Federation support a united action by the democracies of the world against aggressor nations.

The action was taken on a report submitted by the committee on international labor relations which recommended non-concurrence with resolutions urging support for the O'Connell peace bill and proposing that the state department apply "the peace policy as enunciated by President Roosevelt for collective action of all democratic and peace-loving nations of the world and quarantining the aggressor x x x."

May Settle Circus Dispute.

HOUSTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Matthew Woll, vice president of the American Federation of Labor, said today an agreement had been reached with officials of the Ringling Brothers to negotiate a wage dispute which closed the show at Scranton, Pa., several months ago.

Woll said he engaged in informal talks here during the A. F. of L. convention with John Ringling North, Henry Ringling North and Robert Ringling.

Woll indicated he considered the prospects of a settlement were good.

Special tribute will be paid Mrs. Emma Townsend, founder of the Navarro Chapter, U. D. C. Thursday evening at 8 o'clock when she will be honor guest at a dinner. Mrs. H. F. Marr, president of the chapter, will be the principal speaker for the occasion.

FT. SHIHCHAI SHAN SCENE OF WITHERING DRIVE BY INVADERS

NEW EXPEDITIONARY FORCE BEGINS ATTEMPT DOMINATE SOUTH CHINA

SHANGHAI, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Japanese land and naval forces launched a withering attack today on Shih-chai-shan Fort, just 60 air-line miles from Hankow around which the invaders are slowly closing in while a new Japanese expeditionary force begins attempts to dominate South China.

Most Japanese army and navy officials here believed the new offensive near Canton, 550 miles south of Hankow, was aimed at severing southern railways and capturing the southern metropolis itself, thus facilitating the relentless drive toward Hankow, the provisional capital.

The invaders established a spearhead at Sinyang, 100 miles north of Hankow, for two-way campaigns designed to add the Peiping-Hankow railway mileage to their already-captured railways. Japanese war maps show Sinyang to be 187 miles south of Chengchow. Honan province railway officials said the possibility of an offensive toward Chengchow to coincide with a long-delayed drive across the Yellow river southward.

With fierce fighting continuing near Louing, the Japanese charted a drive down the Tientsin-Hankow railway toward Lichai, six miles to the south.

A Japanese army spokesman said the South China invasion started yesterday with the landing of an estimated 25,000 more men at Bias Bay, near Hongkong—was designed to shorten the war and hasten the downfall of Hankow. He added the Hankow offensive will be launched "with its intensity."

Forest Flames Continue Their Border Rampage

(By The Associated Press)

Forestry officials watched anxiously today for "critical developments" as forest fires fanned into new life by strong winds, after heavy rain and brush and timber along both sides of the Minnesota-Ontario border.

In their wake the flames left 20 persons dead, many badly injured, and uncounred thousands of dollars worth of damage to homes, farm lands and hay and timber crops.

The most devastating fires on the Ontario side of the border were reported from Dance Township, west of Fort Frances, Ont. It was in that section that 17 settlers were burned to death.

At Fort Kaministiquia, south of International Falls, Minn., the center of the danger zone on the American side of the border.

Three American fire fighters lost their lives during the long battle with the widespread fires, which have blackened scattered areas from Warroad, Minn., eastward to the Messabe Iron range.

SAY TROUBLED INTERNATIONAL SITUATION TO ASSURE HIKE IN NATIONAL DEFENSE BUDGETING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Several senators predicted today that the troubled international situation would assure President Roosevelt a clear track in congress if he requests substantial increases in the national defense budget.

Senator King (D-Utah), who opposed the billion-dollar naval expansion program at the last session, said that in view of world conditions he now was inclined to support larger appropriations for both the navy and the army.

Mr. Roosevelt said this week a budget increase would be necessary to provide $100,000,000 for new warship construction next year.

Senator Borah (R-Ida.) indicated he would continue his opposition to large naval expenditures, but said he had little hope congress would accept his view.

Senator Townsend (R-De.) has predicted that most republicans would support increases in defense appropriations.

Senator Truman (D-Mo.) said he would not only vote for more money for the navy, but would work for an "accelerated" production of anti-aircraft guns and planes.

Congressional sentiment in favor of strengthening national defense was expressed also by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.).

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.), recently back from Europe, said "double conditions abroad had impressed on him a need for stronger defenses."

From another quarter came a proposal that the United States "earnestly consider" retaining the Philippines as a national defense measure instead of granting their independence in 1946.

Lieut. Ernest M. Eller, naval academy instructor, contended in the United States naval institute proceedings that the islands might prove to be a source of strength rather than a weakness in event of a Pacific war.

NATION'S TWO AND QUARTER MILLION COTTON FARMERS TO VOTE NEW CONTROL PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The nation's 2,225,000 cotton growers will get another chance Dec. 10 to express their opinion of the new crop control program.

They will take part in a referendum on establishing market quotas on next year's cotton crop. Last March they voted nine to one to invoke quotas on the 1939 yield.

Coming at a time when the administration's efforts to restore agricultural prosperity are under attack in several quarters, the election will be watched by both supporters and foes of the new farm program.

The results, said officials of the agriculture department, may have an important bearing on congressional efforts to substitute outright price-fixing for the present legislation.

Two-thirds of the farmers voting must approve quotas in order to make the program effective. Their purpose is to restrict production and sale of farm products when excessive supplies exist. Growers who produce more than their quotas are denied government subsidies and are assessed tax penalties if they market in excess of their quotas.

The cotton referendum may be followed by similar elections on tobacco and wheat marketing quotas.

Federal officials said a favorable vote on the cotton quotas would strengthen the administration's hand in the event advocates of price-fixing make headway at the next session of congress. They conceded that rejection of quotas would give those advocates a "powerful weapon."

Senator Wheeler (D-Mont), charging that the administration's farm program is "breaking down completely," advocated today establishment of a dual price system for three or four major crops.

Wheeler, often an opponent of administration measures, endorsed the plan of Secretary Wallace to purchase crop surpluses for resale to low income classes at a reduced rate.

"There is a great deal of dissatisfaction in the west with the farm program," Wheeler told reporters.

"We've got to come to the two-price system, at least for three or four major crops. The farmers should be given the benefit of a See COTTON CONTROL, Page 4.

ONE-DAY SIT-DOWN STRIKE MOTOR PLANT EMPLOYEES ENDED

DETROIT, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Employees of the Motor Products Corporation, their one-day sit-down strike ended, awaited a call back to work today.

Settlement of yesterday's strike, which affected 2,200 persons, was reached in the Detroit office of the National Labor Relations Board late yesterday and ratified by the strikers last night before they vacated the plant here.

Homer Martin, United Automobile Workers president, said that A. L. Lott, president of the corporation, agreed at the conference to open negotiations with the union on its grievances and to draft a new contract to replace one which expired last summer.

Martin said the strike followed the management's failure to consider seniority in recalling workers and the installation of machinery which brought a wage reduction.

Another automotive strike was in the negotiation stage. It was at the Evansville (Ind.) plant of Chrysler's Plymouth division, and brought idleness to 2,300 workers in that plant and in the body-supplying plant of the Briggs Manufacturing Company in the same city.

ADMINISTRATOR OF WAGE-HOUR LAW IS CONVENTION SPEAKER

HOPE EXPRESSED BY ELMER F. ANDREWS ORGANIZED LABOR TO MAKE PEACE

HOUSTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Elmer F. Andrews, wage-hour administrator, expressed the hope today that organized labor soon would settle its internal differences and attempt to put all transportation under one board.

"The Montana senator, here to testify for the rail Brotherhoods before the President's fact-finding board, said he believed there was 'no justification' for the railroad attempt to force through a 15 per cent pay cut. The Brotherhoods have voted to strike rather than accept the pay cut."

Wheeler, in suggesting that all transportation operate under the same controls, was in agreement with George Harrison, rail labor spokesman.

Harrison made that one of his points in a suggested long-range program, under which labor, management and the federal government would team up to rehabilitate the next 30 to 35 years, with management to withdraw its pay cut demands, for the benefit of all three.

"I think something ought to be done at the next session of congress," Wheeler declared, "in establishing a centralized control of transportation."

"The railroads complain that trucks and water carriers are not regulated and that the government is subsidizing the other forms of transportation. The only way this thing can be worked out is to put all transportation under one board."

Asserting his belief that a wage cut would be of little benefit to the railroads in the long run, Wheeler declared:

"What the railroads need is more business."

"When a depression comes, the railroads always make the mistake of cutting wages and asking for rate increases. Where would the auto industry be if it tried to raise the prices of its product in a depression?"

Harrison, in his argument for the 18 Brotherhoods affected, contended he had proved that a wage cut would offer no solution to the industry's problems.

Long Range Program.

To solve them, he asked railroad officials to consider a long-range program involving coordination of competing forms of transportation, government loans to railroads who agreed to

CHINESE WILL OPPOSE NEW JAPANESE DRIVE

HONGKONG, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Heavy Chinese reinforcements were rushed from the East River district to the Bias Bay area near here today with indications they might soon come to grips with a large new Japanese expeditionary force.

Trend of Gulf Storm Undecided Early Thursday

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 13.—(AP)—The weather bureau reported today a moderate tropical disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico would move over Florida during the next 24 to 36 hours, causing rain and a general squally condition.

The bureau in a 10 a. m. (CST) bulletin advised precautions by small craft in the Gulf of Mexico, and Florida coast waters and by persons on exposed islands and beaches.

The bulletin said, however, the disturbance is "not a storm of hurricane intensity but merely a disturbance attended by rain and winds up to about 40 to 48 miles per hour."

TO MAKE ANOTHER SEARCH FOR BODY MISSING WOMAN

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff John J. Klevenberg, John J. Gray and Texas Ranger Captain Lou Miller left here last night for Ingleside where this morning they will begin a second search for the body of a former employee of John D. Smith, Edinburg, Tex., operator, who shot himself to death recently as he was about to be questioned concerning the disappearance of a woman.

The officers took Clifton Wheeler, who saw Ball shoot the woman to death on the beach near Ingleside about a year and a half ago. Officers believe the body is that of Minnie Gerhardt, of Gotthardt, who had previously led officers to a grave near Elmhurst where the dismembered body of Hazel Brown, 22, of McDade, was found.

STATE OF SIEGE DECLARED IN PART OF CZECHOSLOVAKIA

PARIS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—A Havas (French news agency) dispatch from Prague today said a state of siege, a form of martial law, had been proclaimed at Mukacevo (Munkacs) and in other districts in Ruthenia, following a series of "incidents."

Mukacevo is the principal town in Ruthenia, also known as Subcarpathia, a Russian-occupied province of Czechoslovakia.

The Prague government has granted the province autonomy but both Hungary and Poland have urged that a plebiscite be held there with a view to its possible union with one of the two countries.

Havas quoted Czechoslovak authorities as asserting that on Oct. 9 smugglers brought a group of Hungarians terrorists into Ruthenia, crossing the border from Hungary at Tarpa, 25 miles south of Mukacevo.

The terrorists were said to have been armed with rifles, hand grenades, explosives and pistols of German manufacture similar to those which previously were found in possession of Sudeten Germans in northern Bohemia.

One group dynamited a railway bridge over the Borzava river

Two Workers On Possum Kingdom Dam Are Killed

MINERAL WELLS, Oct. 13.—(AP)—Two men were killed today by the coffee dam on the Possum Kingdom project on the Brazos river near here today caught and smothered two men, while 25 others scurried to safety.

Dead were Fred Weida, 35, of Milford, Ill., and Fred W. Partney, 27, of Olney, Tex. Two other men were partially buried but their injuries were slight.

Steam shovels and workmen with hand tools toiled for 25 minutes under the floodlights to find the bodies of the two men caught in the deepest part of the slide. Work on the Possum Kingdom dam is proceeding on a 24-hour basis, and the slide occurred before daybreak.

Weida is survived by his wife and a child. Partney is survived by his wife.

WITHDRAWAL OF BOTH GREEN AND LEWIS FROM POSTS WOULD NOT BRING PEACE TO LABOR

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—(AP)—The withdrawal of both William Green and John L. Lewis from their posts, in the opinion of many seasoned labor men, would not bring peace between the American Federation of Labor and the CIO.

Green and Lewis have been held apart by persons fearful of 30 years standing. However, this was not the wedge which split organized labor three years ago this week.

It began with an idea for industrial unions. Lewis and some associates believed something ought to be done about the 30-odd million odd workers who did not belong to labor unions. These workers were not craftsmen and did not fit into the craft unions of the A. F. of L. A plan was worked out by industrial unions. The Federation toyed with the idea. It considered a proposal for granting charters to federal unions, which were industrial unions under another name. But it did not do enough with the idea to suit the advocates of industrial unions. They joined with Lewis and created the CIO, now a powerful organization.

Green and Lewis began whacking away at each other. The CIO pulled away from the Federation. The hard feeling began to permeate down through the two organizations to local unions.

The turn taken by government and labor laws injected another element into the dispute. Green and those who stand with him want labor left to play its own hand with industry.

Lewis represents another theory. He and his allies would like to line up government on the side of labor.

Thus, the differences are no longer the simple arguments of industrial workers shall belong to industrial or craft unions. The A. F. of L. and the CIO represent different philosophies.

SEEN RAY OF HOPE IN COM-
ING ADMINISTRATION

W. Lee O'Daniel, Fort Worth, governor-nominate, speaker this afternoon at a fifteen-county farmer rally at the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural show, was honored at a luncheon tendered him at noon at the Navarro hotel.

Delegations from Fort Worth, Aledo, Dallas, Highland Park, Corsicana, Munday, Dawson, Kerens, Frost, Blooming Grove, Malakoff, Athens, Ellis County and other sections attended the program at noon. Prior to the luncheon the honored guest visited the State Orphan's Home, here where he was accorded a fine reception by the children and officials of that institution.

J. S. Murchison, mayor of Corsicana, was toastmaster for the occasion. Special music was furnished by the local CCC world war veteran string band under the direction of Robert Key. The invocation was given by J. S. Haley, superintendent of the State Home.

Many Guests Present.

Included in the guests introduced were Mayor and Mrs. E. B. Germany, Highland Park; Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Stephens, Highland Park; J. E. Burleson, Highland Park; Peter Loran, Munday, president Texas Farmers' union; M. E. Wallis, Dallas, state Farmers' Union organizer; J. E. McDonald, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture; James E. Taylor, Kerens, representative-nominate; J. A. Nichols, ranch foreman for O'Daniel, Aledo, Texas; R. J. Murray, Dallas; Dave Chesney, The Associated Press, Dallas; A. Hastings Harrison, Tulsa, Okla., and many others.

Mayor Murchison welcomed the visitors and referred to the meeting being a non-political affair. He said the program was arranged by Lindon Jones of Athens.

In the beginning of his remarks, Mr. O'Daniel said he was glad to appear before meetings of "dirt farmers" to get their reactions on what is needed and expected of the state government. He said he brought one dirt farmer with him. He said he had received fine reports on the Corsicana district fair that closed last week, and declared he believed everything is getting better in Texas.

Good Intentions.

O'Daniel said he had met and talked with many of the members of the Texas Legislature who are coming up with a mandate from the people and are going to Austin with good intentions.

"Business men have seen a ray of hope in the approaching administration," O'Daniel pointed out, and "they are honest administration and hope in the future."

O'Daniel referred to the necessity in the past for business men hiring attorneys to look after their interests when the Legislature was in session.

"There has been too much class legislation in the past," O'Daniel declared, "and the average citizen has been overlooked."

"We must discharge the honest debt to the old folks," he said and then declared he meant $30 for all over 65. He said the payment of the pensions would be the first thing taken up if he had his way about the matter. The speaker outlined his plan for the reorganization of the state government along more economical lines and a reduction in governmental costs. He also spoke of his plan for the industrialization of the empire of Texas.

Advocates Same Things.

In the closing portion of his address, O'Daniel declared: "It may be strange, but I still advocate the same things I did during the recent campaign."

Mrs. L. C. Lichenstein, Houston, delegate to the UDC convention now in progress here, gave a tribute to O'Daniel that was well received.

J. E. McDonald, state agricultural commissioner and Lowry Martin, business manager of the Corsicana Daily Sun, spoke briefly.

Visited State Home.

At the State Home, O'Daniel was greeted by a chorus singing "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You," accompanied by the band. After he spoke briefly, the children sang "Beautiful Texas" and the governor-nominate hummed the air himself as he walked toward his automobile.

"You haven't anything on me at all," he told the children, "for I was a half orphan myself. Only in those days they did not have fine institutions like this one to care for children in my circumstances."

The state flag flew from the mast in O'Daniel's honor.

Miss Nan Stewart
Visited By Next
Governor of Texas

W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-nominate, paused long enough in his rush of business and engagements here Tuesday to visit an aged admirer who had sent him word she wanted to see him.

According to the story given to newspapermen by Fire and Police Commissioner Fred Prince, Miss Nan Stewart, aged 90 years, an ardent supporter of O'Daniel, sent word she believed she would live to be 100 years old, she would be so happy if O'Daniel came to see her, as she desired more than anything else in the world to shake his hand.

Commissioner Prince said he took O'Daniel by Miss Stewart's residence before he spoke at the rodeo arena at the fair plant.

Miss Stewart was the first nurse employed at the State Home here when it was organized in 1887, and cared for the first child placed in the institution. She was connected with the Home for many years prior to her retirement a number of years ago.

Mart Friday Night

TEAGUE, Oct. 13.—(Spl.)—Coaches Wiley Grinnell and Bob Porter have had two weeks to prepare for the visit of the Mart Panthers of Coach Harry Chambers Friday night, and announce that they are well pleased with the condition of their Lions. One or two changes may be made in the starting lineup. Milton Jordan, who has played every minutes of the three past games at center, was sick Monday and Wednesday, but is hoping to be in the game. Earl Ivy may displace Coleman Parsons as starting right tackle, and Bruce Curtis may start the Mart game at right end instead of Earl Brown.

The Mart game will be the final tilt for the Lions before starting their district race for the Groesbeck, I. O. O. F., and State Home will invade the local field in succession, and Teague will travel to Ennis for the windup.

Teague has lost to Marlin, 21-0, to Rusk, 19-7, and has won over Fairfield, 7-6. Mart dropped a 20-0 game to State Home and 10-0 one to Groesbeck, and was held to a 0-0 tie by Itasca.

Injuries have weakened the Corsicana Junior Panthers the past several days. The Panthers opposed the Mexia B squad in Mexia Thursday afternoon.

AND BRIDGE FUND

THREATEN TAKE DIVISION
COURT UNLESS SATISFACTORY
SETTLEMENT

Considerable discussion and disagreement on various questions featured the Monday afternoon session of the Navarro county commissioners court.

On motion of Commissioner J. O. Sessions, seconded by Commissioner J. N. George that claims and bills be paid where the non-voted precinct one 27 per cent interest was available, George and Sessions voted "Aye." Commissioners C. O. Slaughter and T. P. Hayes voted "No." County Judge Paul H. Miller voted "Aye," breaking the tie. The import of the motion as carried meant the bills in the road and bridge fund of Commissioner Slaughter would not be paid as he is out of cash at the present time, and there is an overdraft charged to his precinct. The bills of precinct 1, 2 and 4 were ordered paid while those of precinct 3 were not ordered paid. Precinct 2 has experienced an overdraft each year for a number of years due to an old debt charged to that precinct.

Hayes Asks 25 Per Cent.

Commissioner T. P. Hayes announced he was demanding 25 per cent of the road and bridge fund as was the agreement when litigation was dismissed more than a year ago. The court recently voted precinct one 27 per cent and the other three equally dividing the remainder. Hayes said he would ask for more if it was necessary to go to court on the matter again.

Commissioner George said he was ready to throw out the matter in the court. County Auditor E. Y. Cunningham advised the commissioners that if the funds were tied up in a lawsuit, all checks would be tied up, including commissioners' salaries.

Several conferences were held in the corridors by the commissioners, and court attaches voted the opinion the matter would be settled without a lawsuit.

Appoint Deputy.

The application of T. A. Farmer for the appointment of Nellie Francis Inman as a deputy to write current tax receipts was approved. The salary is $3 per day.

Mrs. McCary appeared in the interest of raising the salary of one of the case workers and the installation of a telephone at the relief headquarters. Commissioner Slaughter made a motion to allow the increase but it died for the want of a second.

J. C. Roe, assistant criminal district attorney; J. C. Jacobs, assistant criminal district attorney, discussed with the court pending litigation with reference to delinquent tax judgments, etc., answering questions referred to them by the members of the court relative to the status, etc., of different pending suits as well as judgments being entered this week in district court.

The court recessed until Friday.

STATE OF TEXAS OWES $163,104,723 ON HIGHWAY BONDS

ABOUT FORTY MILLIONS OF SUCH BONDS HAVE BEEN PAID OFF

AUSTIN, Oct. 11.—(AP)—The State owes $163,104,723 on county roads bonds which in 1933 it agreed to pay, a report of the board of county and district road indebtedness to Governor James V. Allred showed today.

Acting under a law which authorized assumption by the State of bonds voted by counties to build what later became state highways, the state has paid off approximately $40,000,000 in five years.

Last year it paid $8,696,451 on the principal of the indebtedness and $8,423,528 in interest.

Before all the bonds are liquidated a total of $163,104,723 in principal and $85,654,255 in interest will have been paid by the state over a period of about 35 years.

The last of the bonds matures in 1973. Most, however, will have been taken up by 1965, and they will be retired very rapidly beginning about 1950.

In 1934 it paid 30 per cent; in 1935 50 per cent; in 1936, 75 per cent; in 1937, 90 per cent, and in 1938, 100 per cent. It will pay 100 per cent in 1939.

LEWIS SUGGESTS HE WILL QUIT CIO WHEN GREEN WILL RESIGN

CHAIRMAN OF OPPOSITION
LABOR BODY OFFERS PRO-
POSITION FOR PEACE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—John L. Lewis offered today to resign as chairman of the C. I. O. if William Green would resign as president of the American Federation of Labor to pave the way for peace between the two organizations.

Lewis told newsmen that the suggestion from the Federation's Houston convention that Lewis withdraw from the CIO was "manifestly not a unilateral problem."

"Obviously its bi-lateral," Lewis said, "and the same suggestion would apply to Mr. Green whose recent ferocity seems to know no bounds."

"In any event, I think it worth trying."

"I advise I'm willing to resign today or tomorrow or any day thereafter," Lewis said, "and I am willing to resign as president of the American Federation of Labor."

When may be possible for the remaining leaders of the Federation of Labor and the CIO to conclude a peace pact, in which event the contribution by Mr. Green and myself may be of some value."

The immediate reaction of Arthur O. Wharton, an A. F. of L. vice president, to Lewis' proposal was:

"I doubt his sincerity."

Wharton said "About 18 months ago President Green offered to quit as A. F. of L. head and a committee worked for months to unite the two groups, but it was Mr. Lewis who finally blocked peace then."

George M. Harrison, one of the A. F. of L. representatives on the committee to which Wharton referred, declined comment.

A. F. Whitney, president of the Independent Brotherhood Railroad Trainmen, predicted the warring CIO and A. F. of L. camps would join forces within a year.

"We have friends in both camps although affiliated with neither," Whitney said. "Within a few months leaders on both sides should come to the realization that the interests of labor and the public demand that both groups yield in connection with some points."

Ready To Resign.
Lewis, speaking in a slow, deliberate voice, said if the Federation's convention wants to accept his suggestion, he would resign upon such acceptance with the CIO.

The CIO chairman opened his remarks to newsmen by indirectly suggesting that the president's speech was "a bit of a bluff."

He said, "It does seem there's an obligation to know and understand our own positions."

"I think there is a Scriptural injunction to pick a mote out of your own eye before digging too far into your neighbor's optic."

"Perhaps such a commission could get the facts behind the all-Mexico convention of Messrs. Green and Wall and their ilk at the Houston convention."

John P. Frey is president of the A. F. of L.'s metal trades department. Mathew Wall is an A. F. of L. vice president.

Would Name Commission.
Lewis said the situation gives emphasis to a suggestion of Heywood Brown, American Newspaper Guild president, that President Roosevelt name a commission to make a factual study of the conflict between American labor and industry. The newspaper guild is affiliated with the CIO.

"The hymn of hate chanted at Houston yesterday makes me feel very sad," Lewis said, "not because of the scurrilous epithets that were directed at me, but because the whole incident brings further confusion and greater strife into the labor movement."

"The men and women who will really pay the price of this contention are not at the Houston convention."

"Obviously, Mr. Green and Federation leaders are misinformed on some subjects and doubtless have been led astray in their judgments."

Lewis said there might be some virtue in the suggestion of the Federation convention that he personally retire from official participation in the labor conflict.

"Obviously," he said, "the CIO can function without the benefit of my services and conceivably with increased efficiency."

Lewis made his remarks in the presence of John Brophy, CIO director, and a half dozen of his close associates.

NORWOOD PRINCIPAL SPEAKER FREESTONE TEACHERS MEETING

SAYS EDUCATORS ENTITLED TO SOME CONSIDERATION
HANDS OF STATE

By ROBERT TULEY.
TEAGUE, Oct. 12.—(AP)—With Superintendent W. H. Norwood of the Corsicana schools as the principal speaker, the Freestone County Teachers' Association held its first meeting at the Freestone school at Teague Monday with over 50 in attendance.

The welcoming portion of the evening was divided three ways. Superintendent John Freeman of Wortham schools, Mrs. Sadie Kirgan Stubbs for the city and Oliver Burleson for the board of trustees, of which he is president, each doing the honors in a warm fashion.

Miss Sallie Moulter, principal of the O. M. Roberts grammar school of Teague, presided over the opening part of the evening, as the office of president was vacated by the moving out of the county of M. D. Murphy, former principal of the Freestone school.

In his stead, Superintendent Freeman of Wortham was unanimously elected, the group overriding his protest based on his newness to the county. Coach Bill Hancock of Donie was named treasurer, succeeding his predecessor at Donie, Earl Ward.

A group of musical numbers were given by Wortham school artists as a prelude to the principal address.

Problems Facing Teachers.
Superintendent Norwood held the attention of the assemblage throughout his talk on several of the problems facing teachers, administrators and the public. He named the teacher retirement act as the most outstanding piece of legislation to face the coming session of the legislature, averring that "it would appear that the teachers, after years of worthwhile service, are entitled to the same consideration at the hands of the state as are the employees of railroads, oil companies, government employees and others at the hands of their employers."

Touching on the question of teacher tenure, the speaker brought out the pros and cons of the question, and the advantages and disadvantages found in those states where such a program has been adopted.

He urged that the teachers be not misled into supporting some scheme that would work more hardships upon them than benefits.

He indicated that he was strongly in favor of a salary schedule for teachers based upon their education and experience rather than upon the position to which they were elected. From that point he went on to state that "Education is and ought to be the function of the state rather than the community," basing his arguments in part upon the fact that even school is influenced by the standards and accomplishments of its neighboring schools.

He praised the P. T. A. organizations for their worry in seeing to it that the child receives the best of the best in the nation, and urged more pronounced state support tending toward elimination of the weak spacial Youth Problem.

The national youth problem was next brought into the talk, the future facing more than 20,000,000 boys and girls between the ages of 16 and 25 upon the fact that a diminished high school, being the puzzle to work out. The speaker stated that "We, as teachers, are judged also by the mark made under yonder by those twenty million."

He contrasted the opportunities facing former generations with those apparently facing the present younger group, mentioning that formerly a person's native ability rather than his training brought early advancement, but that now we are trying to train all our youth to fill positions of responsibility, and have raised artificial barriers of education and preparatory periods.

The speaker closed his remarks with a statement that he still believed the American way was the best plan, but that all must work and labor to make it work.

Concluding the meeting of the evening, President Freeman praised the address of Superintendent Norwood, and added his bit in stressing the democratic principles in contrast to the dictatorships which are prevalent in parts of the world.

Those in attendance, by schools represented, were:

Fairfield—P. D. Browne, L. Y. Peavy, Misses Inez Freeman, Fortson, Mrs. Rushing, Sara Sneed, Ray McDonald, Nettie Mau Burleson, Velma Ivy, Mildred Clark, Mary Pridden, Mary Hall, Teague—L. Nolte, G. ## HAY FEVER SUFFERERS WILL SEEK LEGISLATIVE AID TO RID STATE OF DESPISED RAGWEED

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL.
AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—(AP)—Hay fever sufferers in Dallas, warring on ragweed, will ask the legislature to help.

A bill making it a misdemeanor or allow ragweed to grow on property is contemplated.

It will not be the first time ragweed has been a problem. A brigade have sought to have the law to do something about their troubles.

Many years ago a bill providing for chopping down all male cedar trees about Austin was introduced but ran up against a wall of ridicule and succumbed.

The capital is one of the dark spots on the hay fever map. This is because the surrounding hills are covered with cedar and at certain seasons pollen from male trees pervades the air.

Dean W. R. Woolrich of the school of engineering at the University of Texas is very optimistic over experiments the school is conducting with air filters.

Data gathered indicate hay fever patients can do a lot in their homes to relieve their discomfort, Woolrich said.

"Almost any filter where the air flow can be controlled will help," he explained. "It will cut out a large portion of the cedar pollen which is so irritating."

Air conditioning was of some help he said, but an air filter was better.

Attorneys for defendant companies here when Texas' anti-litter suit was called in District Judge J. D. Moore's court.

Eying the lineup of opposing lawyers, Attorney General William McGraw observed that if all their attorneys participated the trial would consume 100 years.

The case had been pending seven. It was started in November, 1937, by James V. Allred, then attorney general.

Vocational education in Texas is 20 years old, a bulletin of the state department of education recalls.

Wortham Study Club
On Last Wednesday
Reassembly Session

WORTHAM, Oct. 12.—The Wortham Study Club held its reassembly meeting for the year 1938-39 Wednesday, October 5, at the home of Mrs. Dick Wimberly, with Mrs. Gustie Weaver as joint hosts.

Mrs. Dick Wimberly, club president, extended the welcome to the guests and club members. In expressing her desires for the club's activities, Mrs. Wimberly referred to the current book, "Think and Grow Rich," where the writer says "Some of our mental faculties are veritable gold mines but we are too lazy or won't take the time to work them. As a mine is of no value—unworked—so is our mind valueless if not cultivated." So it was her ambition that we as club women not waste our time and energy in surrendering to laziness and indifference.

In introducing Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs, retiring Third District president, Mrs. Wimberly told of the honor the Wortham Study Club has in having the district president in the club and it was with pride that she announced that the State Federation has endorsed Mrs. Stubbs as a state secretary because of the efficient way she has stood the helm of Third District for the past two years.

Mrs. Van Hook Stubbs brought greetings from Third District and thanked the club for its loyalty, response and help she has received during her administration.

The musical numbers for the afternoon were furnished by Mrs. John Tucker and Mrs. Duard Gregory. Tucker gave her graceful manner rendered in song, "Come for Its June," by Dorothy Foster, and was accompanied by Mrs. Moody. Mrs. Moody in turn, played "Grieg" by Grieg.

Mrs. Wimberly introduced the guest speaker for the afternoon, Mrs. C. N. Williford, president of the Stone Federation, of Fairfield, who brought a most inspiring and helpful address on "What a Woman Should Bring to Her Club."

Some of the requisites of a good club member which Mrs. Williford brought out were a sincere desire to better herself and the community in which she lives, a tolerance for other viewpoints than her own, courage to do what she thinks best, kindness from the heart, patience, loyalty to fellow club members and a willingness to accept responsibility.

Mrs. R. W. Williford, yearbook chairman, presented the yearbooks to the club. The course of study for the year is miscellaneous, the first half of the year's program being devoted to such interesting subjects as rugs, china, table service, personality development, fine arts and health, at which program Dr. Herbert Hipps from the Crippland Children's Hospital at Marlin will show slides of the progress being made there.

The second half of the program is a study of consumer relations, and Miss Maud Webster, president of Third District Commerce, will deliver an address in May on "Woman's Place in a Troubled World."

IT'S "OPPORTUNITY DAYS" AT KINNEY'S!

SENSATIONAL REDUCTIONS!

It began in 1917-18. In that school year vocational agriculture classes were held at Tuleita, Meridian, Rock Island, Comanche, Pilot Point, El Paso, Ellers, Powell Point, Rollin, Marshall, Hillsboro, Grapeland, Jasper, Cleburne, Littlefield, Liberty, Yancey, Nat. Woden, State Home, Carr, Cran, Whit, Livingston, Harmony, Manor, Hempstead, Oklaunion, Thrall, and Winnsboro.

That was a total of 30 schools. At this writing 694 schools were listing the courses and the department of education expected the number to mount to 700 in a few days.

Senator Grady Woodruff of Decatur and Bob Barker, veteran secretary of the senate, were chatting in the latter's office.

The conversation turned to Woodruff's defeat for re-election. Barker heaved a sigh of sympathy and then, as if seeking to put the most cheerful aspect on the fact, remarked:

"Well, now we will be able to adjourn at 12 o'clock."

Woodruff grinned. "You have to admit I got my bills passed."

It was one of Woodruff's habits of parliamentary maneuver to call up some pet measure a few minutes before the customary time of adjourning at noon.

Very often hungry senators were in no mood to examine bills in great detail and to get into a wrangle. So they would do what wanted and depart.

Rep. Pat Dwyer of San Antonio served notice he would introduce a bill at the general session of the legislature proposing re-organization of horse racing on a local option plan.

If a would allow counties to have pari-mutuel wagers on horse racing if a majority of their citizens voted for it.

Dwyer refused to predict to press correspondents what the legislature would do with his bill.

"They ought to pass it," he said. "The larger counties should be allowed to determine their course in this matter."

GULF STORM

Port Eads is located at the mouth of the Mississippi about 90 miles southeast of New Orleans.

The latest advisory, timed 8:40 a. m., said the storm, moderate and causing strong winds and equals up to 48 miles per hour east and north of the center.

It was showing a slight movement apparently toward the northeast during the past six hours after making a slight retreat during the previous six hours.

Small craft from the mouth of the Mississippi river to extreme southern Florida should remain in port until further notice, the advisory said.

Storm warnings remained displayed from Carrabelle, Fla., to Morgan City, La., and small craft warnings were displayed east and south of Carrabelle to Miami, Fla.

Forecasters R. A. Dyke said he did not think the storm bore promise of touching the Louisiana coastline unless it changed its course.

German Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, it was understood, larger questions were left for Hitler's own consideration.

The German feehrer is expected to receive the Prague minister at the Bavarian mountain retreat which was the scene of his historic conferences with Kurt Schuschnigg, last chancellor of independent Austria; with Prime Minister Chamberlain of Britain a month ago; and with the envoys of Poland and Hungary.

Among the questions on which Chvalkovsky is expected to hear the feehrer's desires are a possible German guarantee of Czechoslovakia's diminished frontiers and the severance of her alliances with Soviet Russia and France.

Chvalkovsky returned to the Czechoslovak legation after his brief visit to Ribbentrop and also a brief meeting with Baron Ernst von Weizsaecker, secretary of state in the foreign office and chairman of the International Sudentland commission which is limiting Czechoslovakia's new boundaries.

Temporary Arrangements. Although no new announcement was made concerning the talks it was understood that temporary arrangements for Czech-German relations until the transformation of Czechoslovakia is completed were under consideration.

Diplomats believed the two foreign ministers also considered the question of how far Czechoslovakia should bind herself to the Reich.

Spokesmen of the Czechoslovak legation and the foreign office professed to know nothing of the reported visit to Berlin of Dr. Ferdinand Durakovsky, Slovak leader. At Komarom, scene to the Slovak-Hungarian conference on Hungary's territorial demands it was said this envoy had gone to Berlin to seek Hitler's mediation of the dispute.

Political informants held Germany would insist Czechoslovakia abandon her alliance with Russia, in accordance with Nazi principle, and that France geographically well was in position to do anything, Czechoslovakia had better make the best arrangements possible with his next door neighbor.

BUDAPEST, Oct. 13.—(AP)—An angry, unruly crowd of thousands demonstrated against Czechoslovakia in Budapest's Liberty Square tonight after receipt of news that the Komarom Conference on Hungary's territorial demands had broken down.

Hundreds of armed foot and mounted police rushed to the square in efforts to get the crowd under control and disperse it.

RAIL WAGES

Referring to the strike already voted by nearly 1,000,000 workers in protest against the wage reduction, Harrison told the board that there could be no progress out of the wage dispute was out of the way.

"Railroad labor," he observed, "cannot fight a battle with management over wages with the right hand, and co-operate with management with its left hand."

Mr. Roosevelt has appointed a joint committee, Harrison said, "to develop a comprehensive railroad legislative program that the President might sponsor in the next session of congress to meet the railroad house in order."

President Desires Program. "Of course, you realize I can't quote the President directly but he indicated his desire to have a program for the future of the railroads."

The labor leader said the brotherhoods had approved this program. "Let us all use the same federal regulations and letting the public choose which it wishes."

Equipment—Use of lighter and speedier railroad equipment for frequent railroad service. Harrison said the government could safely advance necessary funds.

Coordination—Study of competing forms of transportation to determine most efficient in each zone. Harrison said all forms of transportation might operate to supplement one another.

Establishment of rates which would permit railroads to accumulate a reasonable reserve. The labor leader said at present the railroads are in a state of depression when they should go down to encourage business expansion.

Finances—Placing a definite limit on the amount of reserves that railroads could accumulate or pay out in dividends, with a limit on bonded debts similar to existing national bank limits on property.

Probation Period. Reorganization—Harrison said a ten-year probation period should be established for reorganization railroads which would be subject to fixed charges and reduce debt structure to 50 per cent of property values based on rate-making purposes. After the ten years this organization would become mandatory.

Consolidations—Approval of these by interchange of capital, when approved by ICC after searching investigation.

Harrison added that railroad labor was "genuinely interested in the future of this industry. We have invested our lives in it. Those who have invested money can get out by selling on the market. We cannot."

Senators Wheeler (D-Mont.) and Truman (D-Mo.) were ready to add their testimony.

The two senators announced they would testify before President Roosevelt's emergency fact-finding board on behalf of the railroad brotherhoods. The board was appointed in an effort to avert a threatened strike of nearly 1,000,000 railroad workers.

As chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee, Wheeler holds the key to much legislation affecting railroads. Assisted by Truman, another committee member, he conducted an extensive investigation of railroad finances during the last congress.

COTTON CONTROL

"The need now, however, is for clarification of administration of the present farm act," he added.

Decision on the cotton referendum date was disclosed while agriculture department officials were making supplementary plans to solve the problem of surplus cotton, vegetable, dairy and livestock products and meat.

Secretary Wallace told reporters yesterday that a gigantic program for disposal of such surpluses to relieve and low prices families at "cut-rate" prices was being developed.

AAA officials said the 1939 cotton allotment would be approximately 27,500,000 acres, or about the same as this year. The allotment will be divided among states and counties and then apportioned among growers under a formula set up in the farm law.

A growing quota would be the amount of cotton he produced on his allotment. The penalty for selling in excess of one's quota would be three cents a pound. The penalty was two cents this year.

The objective of the cotton program is to keep 1939 production below 12,500,000 bales. Officials have estimated the cotton surplus at about 13,500,000 bales, or more than enough to supply a normal year's domestic and export demands for American cotton.

Under the quota system this year, growers planted less than 27,000,000 acres. Their crop has been officially estimated at 12,212,000 bales.

SEPTEMBER DEAD IN TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS NUMBERED AT 127

DEATH TOLL ON STREETS AND HIGHWAYS OF STATE FIRST NINE MONTHS 1148

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—(Spl.)—Texas has counted its traffic dead. State police—who would rather count the living—today announced that the September street and highway death mark reached 127 to bring the year's total to 1,148 fatalities.

Safety analysis pointed to most of the records of these deaths as examples of recklessness on the part of drivers and pedestrians. Even the fact that the 1938 death march fell 294 short of last year's figure through the month of September, the traffic experts gloomily predicted a rising toll for the remainder of the year "unless drivers and pedestrians revolt against urges to speed, disobey safety regulations or commit safety offenses against public safety."

Strengthening of the enforcement of traffic regulations on highways and in cities and towns was pointed to as the weapon that brought about a major portion of the death reduction this year.

Tabulations of the persons injured in September vehicle assaults were not completed because the statisticians knew that a number of them will die of their wounds. However, as usual, the figure is expected to be well over the 1,000 mark.

Sympathetic state police did not forget the estimated 11,480 persons grief stricken over the death of a loved one.

Even the financial losses were considered as the statisticians poured over the death books. With an economic loss of $50,000 resulting in the death of one traffic victim—the amount includes a 35 to one ratio of injuries to deaths—officials estimated the 1938 traffic crash cost to be $75,400,000, enough money to maintain 55 state police departments, the size of the Texas set-up.

Primary causes of accidents as reflected by information on accident reports received by the Department of Public Safety.

CORSICANA, TEX., OCT. 14, 1936

WINNER'S FOOLED

An article in The Forum, on "The Pari-Mutuel Myth," should make a lot of people thoughtful. The pari-mutuel machine was supposed to mark a great improvement in race-track betting. It would safeguard the public. It would do away with the evils of the old bookie system. With the acceptance of pari-mutuel betting, horse racing was legalized in many places where it formerly was banned.

Now comes the debunker of this particular reform. Mr. Harlan Trott, author of the article, tells how a typical pool of $1,000 bet by the public at an average track on a 10-race afternoon is finally divided. The winners take $208.75. The state takes $272.84. The jockey club owners have the remaining $518.41.

One winner, in one race, may really win. The trouble is that he doesn't stop at one race. And in a lot of races, through a season or a year, the winners still belong with the losers.

The people who bet on horse races for the excitement may get their money's worth. Betting for the purpose of making money seems to be another, and less certain, matter.

HURRICANE LESSON

In Florida, these days, when hurricane warnings come, residents quickly take the safety measures which bitter experience has taught them are necessary. They batten down their property and seek shelter. That is what they did the other day when warned of the hurricane which, after all, passed them by and struck farther north.

Warnings were issued also in the northern region which finally felt the hurricane's force. Coast guard stations hung out flags to inform shipping of the danger. People on shore, however, paid no attention to these signals, and no one made special effort to tell them their danger because no one realized what was about to happen. Such storms normally lose force as they move northward. It was natural to believe this one, too, would be reduced in power before it reached them.

"Now we know," says Meteorologist Daily of the Providence office of the Weather Bureau. "Hurricanes can increase in intensity as they move northward."

After this lesson, officials and private citizens everywhere surely will heed storm warnings and do whatever is possible to protect lives and property from such savage manifestations of Nature.

UNEVEN RAINFALL

September brought excessive rain in some sections of the country, but not all. In the northwest it didn't bring enough. The weather bureau at Tacoma, Wash., reported more than an inch of deficiency for the month. Precipitation in September was 8.01 inches behind normal for the year.

It all goes to show the folly of trying to generalize about the weather. Abnormal rainfall and abnormal drought can be suffered in two different sections of the country at the same time. Just where that leaves the influence of the sunspots, we're not prepared to state.

Oh, well, if European democracies, too, want to be kicked around by Hitler, all right! We Americans prefer to kick around the people who govern us.

COLUMBUS

Against the wisdom of his age
And all the councils of the wise,
The warning of the gravest sage,
The comfort pale indifference
Columbus ventured far to sea
To prove what he believed must be.
Against a superstitious fact
Set down and taught to timid youth
Columbus dared not act
To find an undiscovered truth;
He left sweet safety's placid shore
The unknown regions to explore.
Who knows where next a dream
shall burn
Deep down within some restless soul
Till he, Columbus-like, shall yearn
To seek an undiscovered goal?
Then may he launch his caravel
And westward sail and fare as well.

THE IMPOTENT LEAGUE

A dramatic fact, observed by many listeners, last Monday, was a broadcast from the League of Nations immediately after Hitler's frenzied and alarming speech at Berlin. It was in session during his address. Most of the hearers had forgotten there was such a thing as the League. Many smiled pityingly at the incongruity of the two addresses the one bold and ruthless in behalf of arrogant nationalism and dictatorship, the other calm and dignified in defense of democracy and international co-operation.

That Peace Palace, however, will probably be at Geneva longer than Hitler is in Berlin. And from the present trend of men's minds in free countries—perhaps also in some enslaved countries—it is evident that the idea of united action for peace, through some continuing organization or instrument, is not dead, but stirring uneasily in its sleep.

The existing League, though accomplishing many useful things, has failed in its main purpose. It was not planned very wisely, and also the world was not ready for an effective institution of that kind. Perhaps the world isn't ready yet. But if democracy is to survive, it is evidently going to need some kind of international vehicle for continuous fellowship among nations and for united action in emergencies. It is time for the free countries to do some real thinking about the matter.

TRADES OR CULTURE

There has been a strong trend toward "practical" education in recent years, especially vocational training in high schools and colleges. This has been considered necessary because we send our young people to school longer than we used to, and because there are more jobs for them in industry than in commercial and cultural fields.

But Dr. Harry J. Carman, American history professor, thinks this has been overdone. Colleges, he maintains, should return to cultural training, reducing their vocational courses and giving a broad education instead of training so many boys and girls merely to do special kinds of work. They should also look more to the future, he says, instead of being concerned only with immediate needs. They should try especially to develop educated leaders.

ARRESTED BICYCLISTS

The city of Sandusky, O., meant business when it warned bicyclists that they would have to observe certain traffic rules and safety precautions. Sixty-eight bicyclists were booked for violations in a single day. Some of the sins chalked up against them were lack of sound devices to warn of approach, crashing of red lights, failure to observe stop sign on many streets, and riding double.

Many bicycles were im- pounded. Some riders were allowed to keep their wheels but were fined $1 to $10. Promises were exacted as to future behavior. The police announced that arrests would continue until all bicyclists complied with the law. It may sound like drastic treatment, but the authorities know something of the kind is greatly needed. Accidents caused by bicyclists are gaining in number. Responsibility for traffic safety is shared by all who use the streets, whether in cars, on foot, or on bikes.

PUZZLED CHINESE

A young Chinese woman, traveling in the United States to tell her country's story to Americans, has this puzzled comment to make: "The wounded soldiers do not understand United States citizens who send them bandages for binding up their wounds and the Japanese bullets with which to shoot them."

This is one of the things many peace-loving people do not understand, in this country as well as in China. The complex problems of international trade, the munitions industry and neutrality are among those which must some day be studied thoroughly and dispassionately and solved honestly and justly if the cause of peace is to be won.

There is hope today that some of these questions are to be approached more rationally in the future. They are not simple, however much so they may appear to idealistic individuals. But they should not be beyond the power of right-thinking peoples and government to settle.

We're getting tired of ideologies, and suggest substituting astrology.

POVERTY

"Poverty among Americans may be acute in times of depression," says an American woman who has been teaching school in Sofia, "but it never approximates the poverty in Bulgaria, which is almost universal and unending."

Bulgaria is by no means the only European country where this is true. Nearly all of the countries over there, even those comparatively well off, are normally in a state of poverty for which there is no parallel in the New World.

That is partly a result of exhausted natural resources, but comes mostly from the exhaustion of the endless European wars and armaments.

If Europe drifts into the general war for which everybody has been preparing, nearly all the rest of the continent will join Bulgaria in "universal and unending" poverty.

Teacher: Boys and girls, for homework in geography you must all draw maps of Europe, showing the different countries in outline. Johnny: Do you mean Europe today, teacher, or Europe next week?

War has been prevented—or postponed—and that seems like a good thing. Yet expediency and fear are poor substitutes for justice and good will, and make the solution look perilously unstable.

The thing that makes Englishmen maddest in this war scare, says a British observer, is spending all summer making a nice garden and then having to dig a seven-foot trench in it.

ADVANCE GIFTS COMMITTEE PLEASED FIRST DAY'S WORK

The advanced gifts committee of the Y. M. C. A. drive for modernization funds meeting Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. expressed pleasure at the work that had been accomplished the first day of special drive that is preceding the intensive period of the campaign, October 17. Beauford H. Jester and the four divisional leaders, Festus Pierce, C. S. Dickens, F. H. Harvey, and R. R. Brown all reported a favorable acceptance of project plans. "Two twofold aim of the drive has been especially well accepted," Mr. Dickens said, in referring to the plans for incorporating a women's division into the present Y. M. C. A. plant as well as a complete modernization of the entire structure.

MEASLES

DO NOT TREAT MEASLES TOO CASUALLY . . .

Measles is not so dangerous in itself, but is often accompanied by complications that are very serious. It is one of the most highly contagious of diseases, and most serious for children from 6 months to 6 years of age, and adults. Direct contact is not necessary. It can be contracted by going into the same room with a patient. Keep visitors away, especially those with colds. A child suffering from measles is susceptible to colds and pneumonia, because of the violent inflammatory reaction present in the lungs.

If your child complains of light hurting his eyes, and the eyes show redness and puffiness under lids, keep him home from school and call your doctor. Protect others from contagion, by not allowing visitors and keep child in until the doctor advises otherwise.

Dawson PTA Met In Initial Session Of New Season Tuesday

The Dawson Parent-Teacher Association held its first fall session of the year Tuesday, Oct. 4, during which an interesting program under the leadership of Mrs. R. B. Rogers was presented to a large and appreciative audience. Mrs. J. H. Johnson of Hubbard gave the devotional after which Mrs. Robert Hill was presented in a solo, accompanied by Miss Caruthers. Following the president's message, came the introduction of the teachers by Superintendent Filgo, during which each teacher gave a resume of his or her past work, both as student and teacher. Each teacher holds at least one degree, something of which we are justly proud.

Officers and room representatives were introduced, after which the meeting adjourned for a social and get-together under the sponsorship of Mrs. Major Davis, hospitality chairman. Much interest and enthusiasm was shown by the large number present, and Dawson looks forward as having the best P. T. A. organization in its history. ## SEPTEMBER WEATHER WAS FAVORABLE FOR GATHERING COTTON

RESULTS IN SMALLER PRODUCTION HAY, RICE, PEANUTS AND POTATOES

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—(P)—Conditions during September favored maturity and rapid harvesting of some Texas crops but resulted in somewhat smaller production forecasts on October 1 for tame hay, rice, peanuts, and sweet potatoes, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported today.

The Oct. 1 forecast for peanuts, was 129,000,000 pounds, 10 per cent below the September forecast but 28,000,000 more than last year's production.

The tame hay crop was estimated at 981,000 tons, compared with 831,000 produced in 1937.

The department said an average sweet potato crop had been harvested with an indicated yield of 4,800,000 bushels, 6 per cent less than indicated Sept. 1.

Rains in early September caused some damage to rice and indicated production on Oct. 1 was 13,000,000 bushels, somewhat less than previous expectations but 750,000 bushels more than last year's production.

A better than average corn production of 22,740,000 bushels, 5,944,000 more than last year, was forecast. Total grain sorghum production was estimated at 64,777,000 bushels, compared with 52,538,000 produced last year.

The department reported a possible pecan yield of 18,711,000 pounds, about 10 per cent above the forecast of Sept. 1.

ANDREWS

Like a judge not accepting a jury verdict if it did not please him.

"The essential difference," he said in explanation, "is that when a judge sends back or impanels a jury, the defendant remains in jail or the plaintiff must wait for his money, but when the administrator differs with an industry committee and appoints a new one, there is no wage order."

"The administrator can not issue a wage order except as the result of a committee recommendation. He cannot change a committee recommendation. Neither the administrator nor the committee can act without the consent of the other, just as neither house of congress can enact a law by itself."

Asks Only What Is Just

Turning to criticism that if hours are shortened and wages raised it follows that living standards must be lowered, Andrews told the convention:

"One might think that in demanding higher wages and shorter hours, labor was asking for more than its fair share in the goods it produces. As a matter of fact, labor asks nothing more than a just proportion of the wealth which it has helped to create."

Throughout recent years, labor has been denied this share, x x x "With the tremendous increase in the productivity of modern industry, labor has a right to demand an increase in its real wages; that is, in its purchasing power."

"That increase in productivity, together with the influx of women workers and other factors which have increased our labor supply in proportion to demand, is the reason why the standard work week in this country must be shortened."

Bathroom Scales Show Two Tons of Rock Far Short

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—(P)—State weights and measures inspectors today doctored their hats to the ingenuity of a Dallas housewife.

Suspicious of the quantity of building rock a salesman had represented as two tons, she weighed the rocks—one by one—on her bathroom scales.

The total weight was 1,507 pounds, 2,403 short of two tons. Dallas inspectors called in to verify the weight with accurate scales, did only three pounds better.

"This is the kind of co-operation that will wipe out fraudulent weight practices," said W. S. Bussey, chief of the weights and measures division of the state agriculture department.

SINO-JAP

South China metropolis of Canton by a good highway.

The Japanese appeared to be pushing steadily inland toward Tamshui, a town ten miles from the coast. From there the invaders would have 25 miles to go across comparatively flat country to reach the vital Kowloon-Canton-Hankow railway, about 30 miles from the Hongkong frontier.

Increasingly bitter fighting was reported in the Pingshan-Ningpo area, about 100 miles northeast end of Blas Bay, where the Japanese apparently were consolidating for an advance up the highway to Wanchow.

The defenders were expected to give the Japanese the first real resistance at Tamshui and farther inland beyond the range of Japanese naval guns.

Road Still Operating.

The railroad itself was still operating between Canton and Kowloon, at Hongkong, the British crown colony. Some Chinese experts believed it safe for many weeks yet.

More than 100 Japanese warplanes bombed large areas of land at Hongkong, the British suffered heavy raids.

Military observers here believed the Japanese by no means had finished disembarking troops. One estimate was that two divisions, 40,000 men, had landed in Blas Bay.

Hongkong continued outwardly calm, although Governor Sir Geoffrey Northcote in a bidget address called the proximity of hostilities a "matter of grave concern" because much of Hongkong's food supply comes from Kwangtung province.

Reports reached here that additional Japanese transports were enroute to South China and it was feared a landing might be attempted on the Pearl river near the Bocca Tigris forts in upper Canton Bay, and also near Swatow, about 220 miles east of Canton, near where 28 Japanese ships already were reported. The Pearl river was ordered closed to traffic after today.

Japanese Air Raids.

CANTON, Oct. 13.—(P)—A total of 123 Japanese warplanes were counted passing over this south China metropolis today enroute to bombing forays in all parts of Kwangtung province. They concentrated on railroads.

The United States gunboat Mindanao returned to Canton today after a trip to Hongkong for provisions.

A strict censorship was placed on all news concerning the landing of Japanese troops at Blas Bay and on fighting in that region.

The Pearl river was ordered closed to traffic this evening and it was expected barriers would be sunk in the stream by tomorrow.

CONVENTION

the southern memorials were erected by gifts and donations made through love while those to the northern fighters were principally built from tax moneys.

Mann Principal Speaker.

Gerald C. Mann of Dallas, attorney general nominee, was introduced as the principal speaker of the hour. In his introductory words, the speaker asserted the meeting had the dual role of honoring both the living and the dead.

He recalled that from the time of the first battle of the American revolution through the world war, there had never been a battlefield upon which southern blood had not been spilled. He also asserted that the military experts of the nation had always agreed at the Confederate troops were the bravest of the brave; he also recalled the expression of one Confederate leader: "We were ourselves out whipping the Yankees."

Mr. Mann paid tribute to the fighting qualities of the Confederates by declaring that all honor was due them, but insisted that equal honors should go to those who remained alive and returned to their ruined and desolate homes for the even more difficult task of reconstruction.

He declared those remaining had shown an even greater glory of patriotism and sacrifices as citizens in the rebuilding of the south to be a part of the greatest nation in the world.

Should Follow Example.

He declared that the descendants of the southern fighters of today should follow the examples of the Confederates and attack the problems of today. He declared that a good soldier was worthy of honor but that God's greatest handiwork was an honest, courageous citizen, and that the greatest heritage of southern residents came not from the military feats of their ancestors but from the rebuilding of a greater southland.

As examples of the greatness of these survivors he submitted Robert E. Lee's great work following the war as an educator and planter of General Jackson: "Do your duty and leave the rest to God."

Tribute to Women.

The speaker termed unselfishness, tolerance, and devotion, along with courage the greatest factors of character. He paid tribute to the women of the Confederacy for their many activities while their men were engaged in war, and for their help in reconstruction.

He declared that people of today were engaged in as deadly a warfare as their ancestors but that it was being fought silently and the main victims were the joys, hopes, and ambitions of men, women and children; he challenged the descendants of the Confederates to rise to the occasion as their forefathers did and wrest a great victory.

Following the address, special tributes from their respective chapters were paid to the late Mrs. Katie Cabell Muse of Dallas, Mrs. J. F. Self, Mrs. Valery E. Austin, Mrs. Mary Rogers Bolton (mother of Mrs. J. A. Sanders of Corsicana), and also to A. B. Lawrence, husband of the division poet laureate.

After the singing of "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," the benediction was pronounced by Lon A. Smith, Texas railroad commissioner.

Thursday Morning.

The third day of activities of the U. S. D. C. convention began Thursday morning at the First Baptist Church when delegates assembled to hear the minutes of Wednesday's session read and to continue the reports by chapter presidents and standing and special committees.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. John M. Wilcox, president of the Texas division. Mrs. Wilcox made a personal presentation of a Confederate shoulder braid which she requested be worn by the Confederate flag bearer in the future at all meetings.

A request for additional donations to the Jefferson Davis Memorial to be erected at Montgomery, Alabama, was made by the chairman of the memorial committee. In response to the request the memorial fund was raised to $100 by donations pledged from the floor by the chapter presidents. Personal as well as chapter donations were received.

During the morning the delegates joined in group singing of a selection of Southern melodies.

Wednesday Night.

Meeting for its second night of activities during the Corsicana convention, the United Daughters of the Confederacy Wednesday night assembled at the First Baptist church to hear reports of the various divisions of the Children of the Confederacy and reports from mother organizations over the state. During the evening the report of the Texas Division president, Mrs. John M. Wilcox, was also read.

Opening at 7:30 o'clock with an invocation by the Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church, the program advanced rapidly into the reading of reports by the chapter representatives of the Children of the Confederacy. An account of the year's activities was read by the Chapter president or duly appointed representative. Increased membership was reported by most of the chapters. Among the cities represented were Dallas, San Antonio, Belton, Houston, Galveston, Austin, Waco and Fort Worth. Each president reported on social as well as patriotic work that had been done by the group during the year.

Following the reading of reports from the Children of the Confederacy, a violin ensemble composed of Jimmie Nell Bush, Mary Ellen Sutton, Patricia McDonald, Virginia Warnell, Jennie Ree Hayes, Ellen Purifoy, Harriett Emerson and Mary Elizabeth Marshall played several musical selections accompanied by Mrs. M. L. Adams, pianist.

Two vocal solos "In the Gloaming" and "The Last Rose of Summer" were sung by Mrs. Gladys Peiris accompanied during the second half of the program, introducing Mrs. John M. Wilcox who read the president's report. Mrs. Wilcox gave a detailed account of her activities during the year and expressed pleasure at the progress the various state chapters had made. The work of the Children of the Confederacy was particularly pleasing she said. Following Mrs. Wilcox's report, reports were read by the state chapter presidents. The meeting closed with benediction by Mrs. C. C. Cameron, chaplain.

Wednesday Afternoon.

Additional reports of officers and committees were presented at the Wednesday afternoon session of the convention. Mrs. Isabelle Melton opened the program with some organ selections and then led in the singing of "Old Black Joe."

Frank McElreath, former resident of Corsicana, and now living in Texarkana and official printer for the UDC, was presented to the convention as an honorary member.

Reports of the printing chairman, committee on education, the Texas Room in the Confederate Museum at Richmond, the Mrs. Norman V. Randolph relief fund, Jefferson Davis Highway memorial, and radio were presented.

Mrs. C. W. Key of Webster presented the report for the committee of education, and was introduced as a chapter member who had not missed a meeting in twelve years and had three daughters-in-law who were also chapter members.

A Beaumont delegate indicated from the floor that a resolution would be submitted for convention action calling upon motion picture producers to permit characters in southern roles to speak naturally rather than adopt the exaggerated drawls usually typifying the parts. They were declared to be drastically overdrawn and for the most part false.

Mrs. W. W. Turner reported that the rural schools were cooperating nicely in the program of teaching more southern history in the schools but that less success had been encountered in the dealings with the city schools.

INELIGIBLE LINE PERFORMER FOUND ENNIS TEACHERS

ENNIS STILL IN DISTRICT CHASE BY ACTION OF COMMITTEE

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor

District 16-B University of Texas Interscholastic league executive committee in session here Monday afternoon ordered the 22-6 victory of the Ennis Lions over the I. O. O. F. Home Lynx last Friday evening forfeited to the Odd Fellows. The committee found N. L. Hampel, sensational Lion line-man to be over-age.

T. S. Halley, superintendent of the State Home, Corsicana, chairman of the committee, and other members of the committee, reported following the meeting that Ennis authorities discovered the over-age condition brought the matter to the attention of the district committee. No protest was lodged by another team.

Minimum Penalty
A resolution commending the Ennis authorities on their action was unanimously passed by the committee. The minimum penalty was assessed, the forfeiture of the game. Ennis will continue the season with one loss against their record and have games yet to be played against Ferris, State Home, Teague and Groesbeck in the district race.

Ennis is one of the most powerful class B clubs in the country and was the defending champion. Without the services of this one star, the Ennis countains still have a powerful lineup and is regarded as one of the best in the region. Ennis lost to Corsicana, 20-2, and defeated Hillsboro, 19-7, in non-conference tussles earlier in the season.

District Representatives
Representatives attending the meetings of the district committee here Monday afternoon included: State Home—J. S. Halley, superintendent and chairman; B. A. Jeffers, principal; Groesbeck—H. O. Whitehurst, superintendent; Ennis—W. H. Howard, superintendent; J. D. King, principal; M. W. Davidson, coach; Teague—G. C. Gregory, principal; Ferris—John F. Flack, superintendent; I. O. O. F. Home—Miss Blanche Greenhill.

SECRETARY WALLACE AND AIDES WORKING ON FARM PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, Oct. 11.—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and his aides are completing a four-point program designed to quiet rumblings of dissatisfaction about heavy crop surpluses and low farm prices.

This program includes:

1. Continuation of the existing crop control law, with reference on marketing quotas to keep next year's cotton, tobacco, rice and wheat crops in line with expected needs.
2. A recommendation to Congress that it revive processing taxes invalidated by the supreme court in 1935. Funds raised by the taxes would supplement present farm subsidies.
3. Greater emphasis on expanding domestic markets for surplus farm products.
4. Reorganization of the agricultural department, announced a few days ago, for greater efficiency in serving farmers.

Assistants said Wallace believed this program would fortify the administration against any proposals at the next session of Congress for outright fixing of farm prices at sharply increased levels. The federal crop reporting board emphasized in its October report yesterday that abundant supplies of most food, feed, forage, tobacco and cotton crops are in prospect. The major crops facing excessive surpluses include cotton, wheat, and possibly corn and rice.

Prof. O. F. Allen Weds Sweetheart of Boyhood in Tyler

O. F. Allen, principal of the Corsicana Junior high school, and Mrs. Hattie Hunt of Van, boyhood sweetheart of Mr. Allen, were united in marriage this morning, Wednesday, October 12, at 9 o'clock in Tyler at the First Methodist church.

The Rev. Leo Hopkins, pastor of the church, who is a very close personal friend of both Mr. Allen and Mrs. Hunt, read the impressive wedding ceremony.

The wedding was a quiet affair, with only members of the family in attendance, due to the recent death of the bride's mother in Tyler.

Following a short wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Allen will be at home at 1555 West Fifth avenue.

Mrs. Allen, who is an ex-teacher, is a prominent and very active member of the Methodist church at Van, and besides having been president of the Missionary Society, was a member of the church choir.

Mr. Allen has made his home in Corsicana the past fifteen years and intends to make this his future home. He came to Corsicana at the request of H. D. Fillers, who was then superintendent of the city schools, for the purpose of inaugurating the junior high school. He has been the efficient principal of the school since its establishment.

Mr. Allen holds a B. S. degree from North Texas State Teachers' College, Denton; a B. A. degree from Columbia University, N. Y. City, and has done work on his Ph. D. at Stanford University, Palo Alto, Calif.

Corsicana extends a warm welcome to Mrs. Allen and her eleven-year-old daughter, Laverne Hunt, who will be a student in junior high, and a member of the senior high school band.

World Might Be Made Safe For Democracy -If Only Television Could Get A Sponsor

By JACK STINNETT
AP Feature Service Writer

NEW YORK—Television, to reverse Fanny Brice's old song, hasn't much past—but oh, what a future!

For a preview of that future, I've been talking with the television researchers of the National Broadcasting Co.—men to whom talking pictures in the air are no longer a miracle—men who are working daily with television in all its phases.

From the experience of carefully worked-out plans, they paint as exciting a picture as one would expect from novelists like H. G. Wells or Edgar Rice Burroughs. Perhaps, some of them think, television will bring the one great step forward by which historians will measure present times.

Turn in on C. W. Farrier, NBC coordinator.

"Television will radiate more educational and cultural programs than Hollywood ever has been able to provide. Among our numerous prospects are programs showing the motions of heavenly bodies, experiments in science, lessons in agriculture and safety, methods of safeguarding public health, pictures of microscopic life, candid television, slow motion television and traveling.

Programs soon to be tried include a three-act play, opera, musical comedy and piano and tango dance lessons.

Even Dwarfs Hollywood

However, Farrier and other officials say television will be no glorified movie on the air.

"Even if we could use films, which we can't," says Thomas H. Hutchinson, NBC television production chief, "television would absorb Hollywood's entire annual production in a few weeks. Therefore we must have a gigantic reservoir of talent." That NBC President is on this point of "reservoir of talent, music and literary material."

But it is Lohr who points out that many of the general employment situation. People commonly dread the implications of starting new inventions, but in this instance they may rejoice, for television will afford more employment than either the radio or the movies. It will doubtless become the world's leading reservoir of artistic talent.

But it is Lohr who points out that many of the general employment situation. People commonly dread the implications of starting new inventions, but in this instance they may rejoice, for television will afford more employment than either the radio or the movies. It will doubtless become the world's leading reservoir of artistic talent.

When you see and hear simultaneously, he explains, "you have a good basis for appraising a man's intelligence, ability and sincerity. Many people anticipate that television will promote the cause of democracy by clarifying issues in political struggles, and by making each voter familiar with the faces and personalities of candidates."

It is just because of such possibilities, says Lohr, that the public introduction of television has been delayed. "We have charted its future with the objectivity of the historian," he says, "because we are humbled by its extraordinary power to simulate reality. As our chief aim is to have settled upon first, dependability, and second, social-cultural advancement."

A television engineer thinks that developments in his field may change not only our lives, but us. NBC's O. B. Hanson puts it this way.

"Television is the quintessence of concentration, and in order to avail ourselves of its benefits, we must discipline and adapt ourselves to a new set of conditions. Human beings are not yet geared to the mental clarity required of them in television, which incidentally makes the stage and movies seem rather sluggish. But there is no doubt that modern men and women can meet the challenge."

TELEVISION MEANS FAST WORK: Engineers in the control room can watch the studio program through the green-glass windows in front of them, and can see in the screens at top, how it is going on in the air. They bring the picture to the desired shading and switch from one camera to another at the behest of the program director. Split-second decisions are necessary.

much doubt about anything connected with television except those going to pay the bill. That probably is the biggest reason television isn't available to everybody today.

One of Farrier's chief jobs is to analyze plans for making television pay its own way. "Several ideas are under consideration," he says, "but no practical way of making television self-supporting has yet been found."

When such an answer is found, the program problem probably will be solved quickly enough. Until that problem is answered, no one can say exactly what sort of programs will be offered—nor exactly how expensive television receivers will be. It's something of a vicious circle. People aren't likely to buy receivers until first-rate programs are available, and programs aren't going to be available until somebody presumably an advertiser—pays for them; an advertiser isn't going to pay for them unless he knows that a lot of people have bought receivers.

CHEAPEST WAY TO FATTEN TURKEYS IS RANGE AND FEED

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 11.—(Spl.)—Cheapest way to fatten mature turkeys is to allow them to range on green pasture and to feed them a scratch grain mixture made up of equal parts of corn, barley, wheat, and oats, according to George P. McCarthy, poultryman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

The United States Department of Agriculture, and proven under field conditions by Texas poultry demonstrators show this combination of pasture and scratch grain mixture will add weight and finish in plenty of time for the Thanksgiving market, provided the birds are mature and in good condition in the September.

Either white or yellow corn may be used in the grain mixture. Excess yellow corn gives a yellow tinge to the turkey skin. While the skin will remain whiter when white corn is fed, birds on white corn must have plenty of green pasture to supply the vitamin A otherwise received from yellow corn.

Grain should be hopped fed and be in front of the birds all of the time. For the last three weeks, feeding marketing, two feedings a day of oats soaked in water or skimmed milk may be given to increase consumption. This should be fed in hopper. Never feed more than the birds will clean up in an hour, McCarthy says.

Finding of four more bodies in the Dance township, Ontario, forest fire area brought to 21 today the known dead from the blazes that swept the Minnesota-Canadian border region Monday. Several others were missing, including six members of the Stone family.

The latest victims accounted for were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fyle, age 21 and 19 respectively, and 13 months old son, Donald, and Mabel Larson, 12 year old sister of Mrs. Fyle.

Their burned home was in the area, fifty miles northwest of Fort Frances, Ont., where at least 14 others perished.

Rescuers found the four bodies along a trail where they had been trapped.

Provincial police learned Mrs. Fyle, an expectant mother, had been staying at her parents' cabin, some distance from the Fyle place. When the fires threatened Monday she left with her small boy and sister to warn her husband who was cutting pulpwood. They apparently reached Mr. Fyle and all died in a vain attempt to flee the sweeping flames. Her mother's home did not burn.

A constable directed a crew into the Dance township region, where 14 victims had been accounted for last week. The Sam Fyle home. The occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Fyle, their one-and-one-half year old son and Mr. Fyle's sister-in-law were missing.

Police searched fearing that they had been trapped.

Also missing was a family named Stone which lived in Kingsford township which, like Dance township, was swept by the fire. The Stone family included the parents and four children. Police said it may be days before fate of all residents of the area is learned.

Airplane national guard trucks and thousands of Canadian border fire-ravaged Canadian border district between northern Minnesota and Ontario today on the 20th anniversary of a forest fire that took hundreds of lives.

Although scattered showers and lower temperatures had greatly improved conditions, authorities said, grimly, weary fire fighters were watching blazes from Warroad, Minn., eastward on both sides of the border to prevent new outbreaks of the fires that had already claimed 17 lives.

About 30 persons, including one whole family, were taking in the Dance township, Ontario region north of Port Francis, where a crackling timber fire yesterday killed 14 settlers. Three men lost their lives fighting blazes on the Minnesota border.

It was just 20 years ago today that a timber fire destroyed the city of Clouet and killed several hundred residents of the district.

IMPORTANT MEETING TUESDAY AFTERNOON U. D. C. CONVENTION

COMPLETE REVISION CONSTITUTION, BY-LAWS ORGANIZATION SCHEDULED

Preliminaries were being cleared away rapidly Wednesday morning at the first business session of the forty-second annual convention of the Texas division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for one of the most important meetings of the organization in several years.

Scheduled on the agenda for the afternoon business meeting was the action on a complete revision of the constitution and by-laws of the organization, and routine affairs were being dispatched quickly during the morning hours. There was little apparent indication as to whether or not there would be any opposition to the numerous proposed changes.

Mrs. John M. Wilcox of Houston, division president, presided over the morning session of the convention was pronounced by the Rev. Leslie G. Thomas, pastor of the Church of Christ.

Minutes of the executive board meeting were presented and approved unanimously at the morning session Wednesday, as was the report of the program chairman, Mrs. E. R. Ramsey of Houston.

As a matter of fact all business transacted prior to the report of the credentials committee was ratified.

Credentialed Committee. A partial report of the credentials committee was submitted by Mrs. A. M. Lane of Fort Worth which showed 31 chapters represented by 55 delegates holding 65 votes, 17 officers, six chairmen of standing committees, and 10 chairmen of special committees, making a total of 100. It was reported that a number of delegates were in attendance who had not registered.

For the second consecutive day, Fort Worth was the host of a busload of delegates and visitors.

Reports were then presented by Mrs. Kirk Dill of Brenham, division vice president, and Mrs. E. A. Hastings of Columbus, second vice president.

Miss Willa Stephenson of Dallas, third vice president, made the next report dealing with the children's work. She reported a total of 217 new child members in the past two years, and also that the Texas division was first to present children's program over the radio.

Mrs. Maude Gray of Belton, three times third vice president of the Texas division, and chairman of children's work at Belton for the past 17 years, was introduced and given a rousing ovation when it was announced she had the names of 653 children on her roll.

Children's Organization. The president called attention to the fact that a Children of the Confederacy state organization had been perfected and would hold its first convention in June, 1939, and that officers to serve until that time would be announced at the Wednesday evening meeting.

Mrs. Hastings also submitted a report as acting recording secretary, and Mrs. J. Herbert Page of Houston made the report of the corresponding secretary.

Mrs. E. Taylor of Houston was introduced at this time for special recognition as an honor winner at the Richmond convention for the greatest increase in membership, and that trophy she received was exhibited with the comment it was the first time it had been won in the Trans-Mississippi department.

Mrs. David Jones Pickle of Austin, registrar, was the next officer to report, and said Jefferson Davis chapter of Houston had the largest increase in membership during the past year, while the Sam Lanham chapter of Weatherford had the greatest per capita increase.

The work of Mrs. J. P. Greenwood of Dallas, division historian, was given high praise by the delegates as a whole, and by individuals as her report was presented. Her research work in connection with the filming of "The Texan" was especially commended. It was also stated that Randolph Scott, hero of the screen version, was awarded a division military service medal in 1936.

Luncheon Thursday. A special announcement was made concerning the luncheon honoring Mrs. Forrest H. Farley of Hutto, retiring regent of the Texas Confederate Museum, to be held at the Kinsloe House at noon Thursday. Delegates were also urged to attend the tea at the State Home Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. J. S. Halley as hostess.

The convention authorized the sending of greetings to a number of past officers and members who were unable to attend the Corsicana meeting.

Little Miss Earle Bounds Powell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Powell of Stanton, was introduced to the convention as the mascot of the Texas division.

The report of Mrs. W. K. Steele, Corsicana, division treasurer, was deferred until Thursday. During the special session, Mrs. Steele was awarded a special medal making her a maid of honor of the Albert Sydney Johnston post, Sons of Confederate Veterans, Houston.

Mrs. P. Marr also received a similar award.

The report of the custodian and other officers, and special business was presented during the remainder of the morning prior to adjournment for the luncheon session.

It was hoped to be able to get to discussion of the proposed revision of the constitution and by-laws.

Tuesday Night. The forty-second annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was formally opened Tuesday night at the First Baptist church with the first open meeting of the delegates.

Minutes of the executive board meeting were presented and approved unanimously at the morning session Wednesday, as was the report of the program chairman, Mrs. E. R. Ramsey of Houston.

The pledge of the Daughters was then read by the entire audience.

Mrs. W. W. Turner of Webster, recorder of crosses, was then presented. After the most impressive services of the evening, in her introductory remarks, Mrs. Turner declared the Daughters of the Confederacy were the only organization who gave special attention to the needs of Confederate veterans, and declared that it was peculiarly fitting that it should be so, because of the fighting heritage which the sons and grandsons of veterans had received.

She traced the contributions of the South and of Texas to the fighting forces of the nation.

At the conclusion, UDC crosses for distinguished military service were presented to William Croft of Corsicana and Harry Lloyd Fitzpatrick of Austin. The acceptance for the Corsicana man was made by his mother, and for the Austin man by his sister.

Polk extended the official welcome of Corsicana to the assembled delegates. Mr. Polk's address was followed by additional speeches of welcome by J. M. Dyer, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Lowry Martin and C. E. McWilliams.

Invocation was given by the Rev. E. T. Miller and the preliminary address made by W. M. Huff. Mr. Huff spoke of the great heritage of the Confederacy, and of the symbolism that the Confederate flag held for the people.

Judge Tom Simmons of Fort Worth gave the official response to the speeches of welcome and expressed a personal wish that the sons of the Confederacy were as active as the U. D. C. He recalled scenes of patriotic fervor which he had witnessed as a boy during the Civil War.

Following Judge Simmons' address, the delegates arose to give a pledge of allegiance to the American flag and salutes to the Confederate and Texas flags.

AFL. (Continued From Page One) be regarded as an attack on the Roosevelt new deal.

William Green, who has been president of the federation for 13 years, expressed his opposition to the convention may choose between San Francisco and Atlantic City for next year's meeting place.

With swift, decisive action yesterday the delegates shunted into the executive council a resolution committee report criticizing present day trends and tendencies in government affecting labor's traditional claim to self-government and self-aid.

The report, presented by committee Chairman, Matthew Woll, one of the A. F. of L. vice presidents, complained that the philosophy and practices of "socialism" were reflected in current tendencies to extend the domain of the state and make it supreme.

Opposition Is Quick. Delegates on the floor, interpreting it as a broad attack on the national administration, quickly adopted opposition to its adoption. Woll denied that it was a criticism on condemnation of the new deal and said it was offered only to "arouse the imagination" to new philosophies in the making.

The opposition to the report backed by a unanimous vote was regarded by many labor men as a significant test of rank and file attitude toward the administration. One union leader labeled it as "politics" although John P. Frey, secretary of the resolution committee denied it.

The strong building and metal trades union, holding about 40 percent of the convention vote, were reported to have backed the floor resolution which eventually bounced the report into the hands of the executive council, the A. F. of L. "general staff."

Reusal of the delegates to accept the report until the council has had time to study it, left the convention committee today to a policy of opposing general condemnation of the administration, but favoring revisions in labor and social legislation designed to curtail authority delegated to boards and bureaus.

STATE OF SIEGE. (Continued From Page One) and later attacked the railway station at Borzava-Muzilovo, killing a railway employee and wounding a passenger in a bus which had stopped at the station, Prague authorities said.

Another group circled to the north of the town of Berehovo and attempted to destroy telephone lines and railroad tracks. The Havas dispatch said a state of siege was proclaimed in the vicinity of Stryj, some 20 miles south of Mukacevo, on Oct. 10, and this was extended to Mukacevo yesterday. The frontier was then closed tightly to prevent the arrival of more of the Hungarians who styled themselves "liberators."

Flag Chapter. Mrs. Valery E. Austin, past president, Texas Division; Mrs. C. M. Bader, Mrs. Mary Rogers Bolton, honorary president; Mrs. W. H. Boyd, Mrs. A. Lawrence, Mrs. Laura Dennis.

It marks the opening of the conference drive for Wichita Falls while facing four soft spots in the district 2 campaign where Vernon and Graham have been picked to scrap the Coyotes down to the wire.

Children has an impressive record though the opposition played does not appear as strong as that of the Coyotes who are unbeaten but tied. The deadlock, however, was against Masonic Home, the Fort Worth team that ranks with the strongest in the state.

Fifty-seven games are on this week's schedule, 33 of them counting in the championship race. Three will be played tonight, 50 tomorrow and four Saturday.

Every district except the Panhandle has one or more conference games. Longview's state champion Lobos open the drive in district 8 with a game at Amarillo, scheduled by two weeks ago. The Lobos are finding the going rough but still look strong enough to make a real fight of it. They met defeat last week at the hands of Highland Park of Dallas but the Highlanders are rated with the best in the state.

At his desk piled with messages, friends congratulated the white-haired, clear-eyed man who sixty-four years ago today started as a city office boy for the Dallas News, parent organization of the Dallas News.

Dealey, who is at his office daily from 9 a. m. to 6:30 p. m., puts in more hours than most of the News' hundreds of employees.

Born in Manchester, England, Sept. 18, 1859, Dealey with his family first saw Galveston from the deck of a sailing vessel in 1870. He never went back to England. From office boy at $3 a week, Dealey worked in the circulation department, as traveling agent and as correspondent at Waco, Houston and Dallas.

When The Dallas News was founded in 1885, Dealey became its business manager.

Ten years later, he became manager of the News and in 1906 became vice-president and general manager of the Galveston and Dallas papers. In 1926 he and his associates purchased the Dallas News and Dealey became publisher and president.

Dealey's first job in Galveston before joining The News was in a candy factory where he ate so much candy that he had to be sent to the hospital. He also pumped an organ at Galveston's old Trinity Episcopal church and is proud of his membership in the association of Former Pipe Organ Pumpers of America.

Among honors he has received were degrees of LL.D. from Southern Methodist University, Austin College and the University of Missouri, and a scroll presented by the Texas Newspaper Association as Dean of Texas Journalism.

Observances of his anniversary included presentation of a scroll by the Dallas Delta Chi, fraternal organization of which he is an honorary member.

Plans are being made for the first Fall fox hunt and meet by officials of the Navarro County Wolf and Fox Hunters Association. C. C. Sands, secretary, announced that the event will be held Nov. 4 in the event rains are encountered prior to that date, but if the dry weather continues, the meet will be postponed.

This affair will be staged in the Smith pasture south of Kerens. Arrangements have been made with the church ladies of Kerens to be in charge of sandwiches and other refreshments. An added attraction will be a bench show during the day prior to the races at night. Secretary Sands has stated, with L. W. Harris of Whitney as judge. Any dog can be entered in the show.

An excellent camp site is available and those desiring to spend the night can do so. Finished fox dogs are desired to be used, although any dog is eligible for the races. Secretary Sands and President Fred Copeland have surveyed the area where the event will be staged and state there are plenty of fox in that area.

Grand Duke Cyril, Head Of House Of Romanoff Is Dead

PARIS, Oct. 12.—(AP)—The Grand Duke Cyril Vladimirovitch, head of the House of Romanoff and self-proclaimed "czar of all the Russians," died today in the American hospital here. He was 62 years old.

The pretender to the vanquished throne of the Russian Empire, an exile in France since the Bolshevik revolution, had been seriously ill for two weeks, suffering from gangrene of one leg. He had become so weak that doctors feared to operate.

The Grand Duke, a cousin of the late Czar Nicholas II, last of the dynasty to reign, proclaimed himself rightful heir to the throne Aug. 31, 1924.

With him at the end were his brothers, the Grand Dukes Boris and Andrew, and his sister, the Grand Duchess Helen, now Princess Nicholas of Greece. She is the mother of Princess Marina, the Duchess of Kent.

Death occurred at 1:15 p. m. (8:15 a. m. E. S. T.). The Grand Duke's wife, the Grand Duchess Victoria Feodorovna, granddaughter of Queen Victoria of England, died March 2, 1936.

Three children survive the Grand Duke. His son Grand Duke Vladimir, born at Halko, Finland, Aug. 17, 1917, while the family was fleeing from the revolution in Russia, becomes head of the House of Romanoff and succeeds to the claim to the non-existent throne.

The older of his two daughters, Grand Duchess Marie, is the wife of Prince Charles of Leiningen. The younger, Grand Duchess Kiria, became the wife of Prince Louis Ferdinand, grandson of the former Kaiser of Germany, May 2, and recently visited the United States on her honeymoon.

Cyril was born at Czarskoe-Selo, seat of the Romanoff family, on Sept. 30, 1875.

EXERCISING

If you are one of the many women who know they should take more exercise, and cannot stand being bored by the aimless sort, read the suggestions in today's talk by Miss Forbe.

Most women dread taking special exercises, and are always putting it off. They are so stupid, and excuses may always be present for not doing them. But when they are rarely kept up regularly, and if they are done erratically, they are of very little benefit; really, just another thing to nag at your conscience. The only remedy is to make your exercising a pleasure, and this may be done by doing skating, swimming, or playing tennis or golf. But some of us cannot do any of these, or at least not regularly.

We can all manage to walk, often saving car fares and getting the benefit of the fresh air. So much driving is depriving us of one of the finest exercises we have, but we may go off for a walk, in the parks, or just around and around the block before bedtime, when the streets are free of people, or of traffic. Roller skating became popular last year, just to give city people a chance for exercise. It is to be hoped it will be popular again this winter, with many women skaters rolling along the cement paths at night in the parks.

Country people have an advantage in being able to use the bicycle for exercise. Cycling is hardly advisable on crowded avenues of the city, but ideal for the country. It would be excellent if women in the country did their shopping this way, instead of using the car, and five to ten miles of it every day would build up their health, also keep them from fleshy abdomens, hips, and thighs. Ankles, calves, and even their feet will be benefited from pedaling a bicycle. Hollywood stars started this a few years ago, but all over England, rain or shine, mostly rain, groups of people on bicycles are seen over the roads of the whole countryside, especially over the weekends. Cars must move to one side for them too.

B. B.—A girl of 16 years should not use a cream for her skin, not unless there is some special need such as at a time of extreme dryness. There could be any reason for an astringent years before there is reason for it, just means to bring about a very dry condition needlessly. All astringents are drying, and when really needed, it becomes a matter of choosing the lesser evil. Keep your skin fresh and young, and do not force unnecessary things on it. Keep it clean and active by a daily full bath, plenty of exercise, and fresh air so the whole system is kept working healthfully. Take a cold rinse after your bath, douching the face and neck in plenty of water and you will bring about a healthy reaction, with your skin all aglow and rosy. This will help rid you of the enlarged pores, and also improve your color for the whole day.

Mrs. L.—You can count 100 calories for every cream, chocolate, more if it has nuts in it. A cookie averages 50 calories, and a doughnut 100. Honey, or any sweet thick syrup, 100 calories for a heaping tablespoon. The usual slice of pie, which is one sixth of the pie, with top crust, counts 350 calories.
